Judges Comments

Joe Schenk, Director Art Museum of South Texas

As the "new guy" in the visual arts community, I enjoyed having the chance to see the wide range of artistic interpretation from artists in our area. There were works of very high quality offered by some artists and others that need to continue studying and growing in terms of technique and execution. I also found that many artists did an excellent job of presenting their work in a professional manner. However for some, the art was solid, but the presentation was poor and detracted from the work itself. I would encourage every artist to make sure that the way your art is framed or finished for submission enhances the presentation.

It is great to see the Art Center acknowledging and supporting its artists through the "All Membership Show." I know that everyone will have their own favorites and my choices won't match some of those. For me, there are several criteria that I focus significant attention on: execution, presentation, technical mastery of the media, and it must speak to me in some way. As you can see from some of my choices, I'm also a person who loves color!

I congratulate the Art Center membership on a nice show and hope that our community will come to visit the exhibition. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your judge.
